Reviews

This publication is indeed gripping and intriguing. It is actually written in basic terms and not difficult to understand. I am just pleased to explain how here is the greatest publication we have read through during my own lifestyle and could be the best pdf for at any time.

He received his education at the State School, and having won a scholarship, completed his course of study at the Brisbane Grammar School, where he had a brilliant career. Mr. Oxenham joined the Public Service of the Colony in March, 1878, by accepting a clerkship in the Head Office of the Electric Telegraph Department under the control of the Postmaster General. After the amalgamation of the Post and Telegraphs in 1879 the subject of our sketch became more closely identified with the postal J. Oxenham. (Chief Clerk.) side of the administration, and during his subsequent service occupied positions of importance in the correspondence and record branches.-Towards the end of 1899 Mr. Oxenham reached the head of the branch, and was appointed officer in charge of correspondence. On the consummation of Federation, the first Federal Postmaster-General (the Hon. J. G. Drake) selected Mr. Oxenham as his private secretary. After touring the various States, and when the establishment of the Central Administration was decided on, Mr. Oxenham s long and meritorious services were further recognized by his elevation to the position of chief clerk on the first Federal staff. Miss M. A. Andrews. THE recent retirement of Miss M. A. Andrews, Postmistress of Epsom, deserves special notice if only on account of the long and honourable connection of herself and her family with the...
