Reading Words (Paperback)

By N Makeda Aurich

Tate Publishing Company, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 178 x 127 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Are you a busy teacher or tutor searching for a phonics resource designed specifically for older students? Are you a parent or homeschooler with a middle school- or high school-aged student who has difficulty reading large words? Reading Words is the resource for you. Reading Words addresses the unique needs of the older student, going beyond other phonics resources to teach students how to apply the basics to the kinds of words that are already a part of an older student's spoken vocabulary, but evade them in written form, the kinds of words they frequently encounter in reading material geared towards their age group, the kinds of words that an older student must be able to read in order to function at their best in school or at work. This is what makes Reading Words unique and an ideal resource, not only for the students mentioned above, but also for advanced ESL students as well as teachers, parents, and tutors looking for a supplemental phonics resource that can be integrated with spelling, reading, and vocabulary lessons.
